

Dëne Sułın Yatı Chipewyan

Dëne Sułın Yatı - Chipewyan

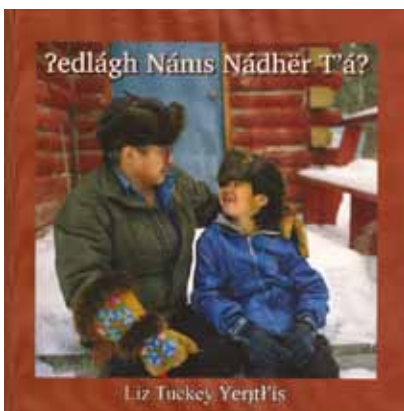

Birch Water - K'i Tú

Brent Kaulback , South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2007).
32 pages; elementary and high school-up

Birch Water describes in pictures and easy-to-read text the process used by a students at Chief Sunrise Education Centre to turn birch water, the water that comes from tapping a birch tree, into the dark sweet syrup known as Ki Tú.

Themes: Trees, Earth Medicine, Plants, Eating and Food

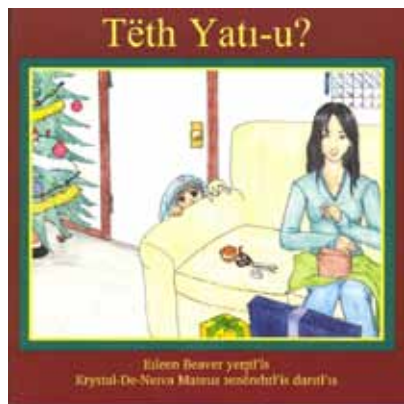

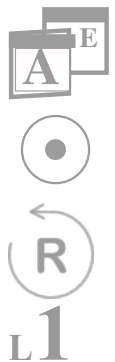

Who Lives in the Bush? - ¿edłágh Nánis Nádhër T'á?

Liz Tuckey , South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2007).
24 pages; elementary

A young Dene boy and his grandfather travel down a path talking about all the animal that live in the bush. This beautiful photographs of animals behind the boy and his grandfather will delight all readers.

Themes: All animals, Family, Grandparents, Elders

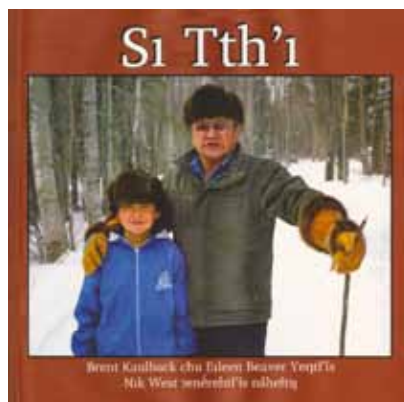

Is It Christmas Yet? - Tëth Yatı-u?

Eileen Beaver, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2007)
24 pages, elementary

A young boy, eagerly awaiting Christmas, is reminded of the holiday season everywhere he looks but his excitement gets the best of him in a surprise ending. This book features repetitive and predictable text.

Themes: Family, Celebrations, Seasons

Me Too - Sı Tth'ı

Brent Kaulback & Eileen Beaver, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2007) 32 pages, elementary

A young Dene boy tries to be like his grandfather as he mimics the many jobs and tasks his grandfather does. Conversations about family roles and traditional ways of learning can ensue from this story.

Themes: Family, Grandparents, Child, Play

Dëne Sułın Yatı - Chipewyan

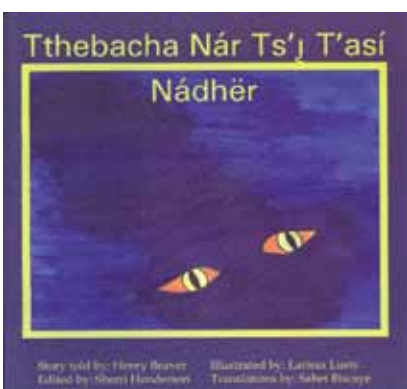

A Walk to Remember - Jéch'anı Benanı

Georgina Mercedi, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2006). 32 pages; elementary and high school-up

A Walk to Remember is a childhood memory as told by Fort Smith elder Georgina Mercedi - the story of a winter walk with her Aunt to an uncles cabin. The story lends itself well to conversations about traditional camping, winter survival and care for the land.

Themes: Seasons, Living Force, Trapping, Eating and Food, My Identity

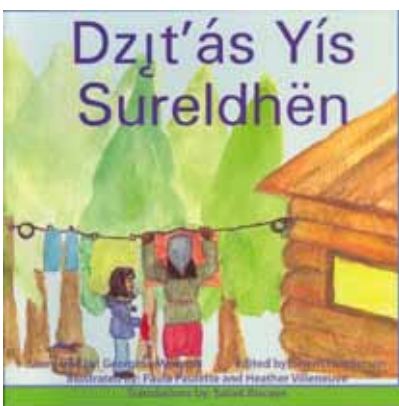

The South Slave Creature - Tthebach Nár Ts'ı T'ası Nádhër

Henry Beaver, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2006). 32 pages; elementary and high school-up

This book tells the true story of the South Slave creature, a creature reported living in the waters of Slave River. This book includes a CD with a fully animated and narrated version of the story

Themes: Legends, Water and Rivers, Living Force, Prayer

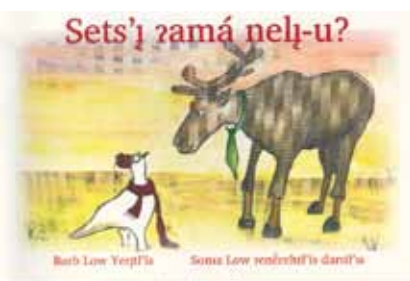

Saturday Chores - Dzı́t'ás Yís Sureldhën

Georgina Mercedi, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2007) 32 pages, elementary and high school-up

Saturday Chores is the second of two childhood memories as told by Fort Smith elder, Georgina Mercedi. In this story, she tells of the chores expected of a young girl growing up in the bush. The story also describes the special relationship between Georgina and her aunt.

Themes: Family, Parents, Child

Are You My Mom? - Sets'ı ʔamá nelı-u?

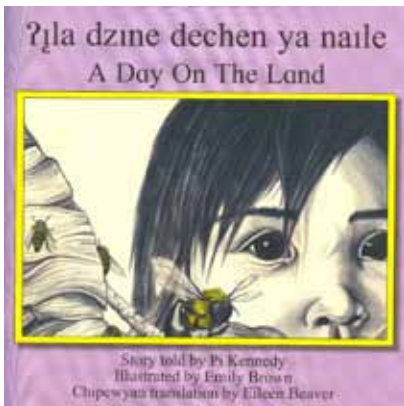

Barb Low, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2007) 16 pages, elementary

This adaptation of the well known story has a ptarmigan searching for its mother. The repetitive text makes this an easy read for young children.

Themes: Family, Animals

Dëne Sułın Yatı - Chipewyan

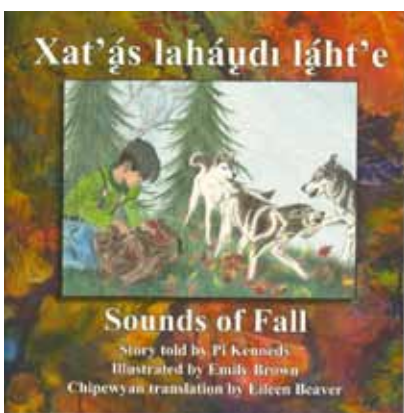

A Day in the Bush - ʔıla dzine decen ya naile

Phillip Kennedy , South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2009).
24 pages; elementary and high school-up

This first in a series of four stories documents the early childhood memories of “Pi” Kennedy, a Métis trapper from Fort Smith. The bounty of the land and the sights, sounds and adventures around every corner are described in this easy to read book.

Themes: Camping, Trapping, Family, Food, Child

A
E
L1

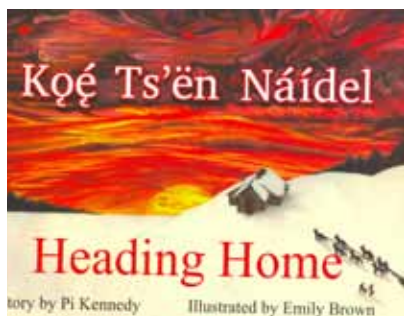

Sounds of Fall - Xat'ás laháudı láht'e

Phillip Kennedy , South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2009)
24 pages; elementary and high school-up

This story, the second in a series of childhood memories by Métis trapper Pi Kennedy, is a humorous account of life on a trap line and the struggles of bringing the dog team back to town by plane. The reader will enjoy the descriptions and the illustrations

Themes: Dogs, Family, Trapping, Seasons, Child

A
E
L1

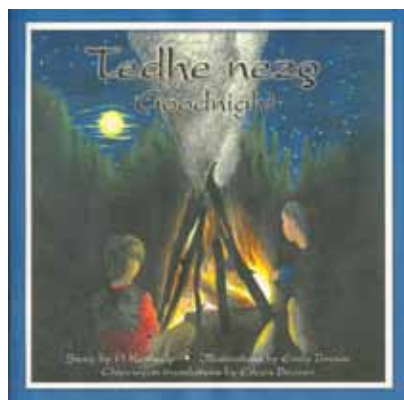

Heading Home - Koé Ts'en Náidel

Phillip Kennedy , South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2009)
24 pages; elementary and high school-up

This third book in a series of Pi Kennedy's childhood memories described life on trap line in the wintertime. Ice fishing, checking fish nets, packing the sled with furs and mushing the dogs are all vivid memories and richly described with words and pictures in this book.

Themes: Family, Seasons, Trapping, Dogs

A
E
L2

Goodnight - Tedhe nezo

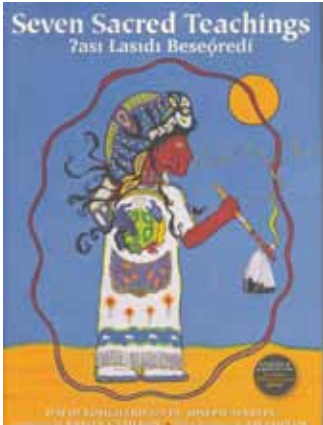

Phillip Kennedy , South Slave Divisional Education Council,
(2009) 24 pages; elementary and high school-up

This book, fourth in the series of childhood memories by Métis trapper Pi Kennedy, describes life of a young boy on a trap line. This specific story relates the humorous events of a cabin being over-run by a family of beavers.

Themes: Family, Trapping, Beavers, Child

A
E
L2

Dëne Sułın Yatı - Chipewyan

Seven Sacred Teachings - 7ası Łasıdı Beseǒredi

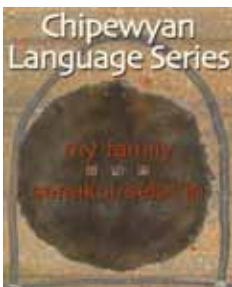

David Bouchard and Dr. Joseph Martin, More Than Words Publishers in cooperation with the South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2009). 36 pages; elementary and high school-up

The Seven Sacred Teachings “is a message of traditional values and hope for the future.” This wonderfully illustrated book relates the story of universal traditional aboriginal values as shared by White Calf Buffalo Woman and that compliment the Dene Laws.

Themes: Spiritual Power, Living Force, Prayer, Trees

L3

Chipewyan Language Series

South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2005); elementary and high school

This collection of six books and accompanying set of flash cards provide the reader with a quick reference guide to aboriginal words used in six categories: trees and plants, land and seasons, animals, my family, food, and numbers. Colourful illustrations provide visual support for each of the words.

Themes: Geography and Land Use, Trees, Plants, Water and Rivers, Family, Animals, Food and Seasons

L1

Mak'arónı dıas ıa - Oodles of Noodles

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 8 pages, elementary and high school

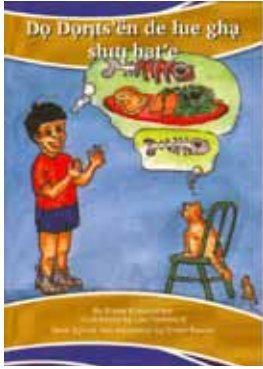

This is an aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This particular book describes the love a boy has for noodles.

Themes: Food

L1

Dëne Sułın Yatı - Chipewyan

Dö Dörtts'ën de łue ghā shıtı hat'e - Fish for Supper
Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council,
(2008). 8 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This particular story tells the story of a boy intent on having some fish for supper.

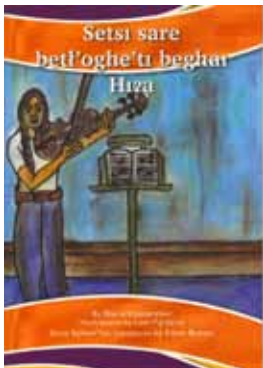

Themes: Food, Family, Fish

Sunaghe Tım - My Big Brother Tım
Joe Saskatchewan, South Slave Divisional Education Council,
(2008). 8 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal-themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This particular book tells of the relationship between a boy and his big brother Tım.

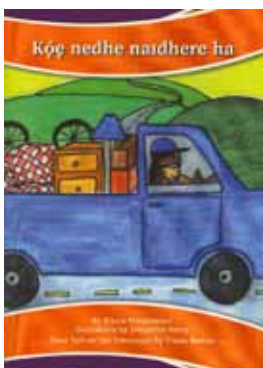

Themes: Family, Play

Setsi sare betł'oghhe'tı begħatı Hıza - Grandpa's Gift
Joe Saskatchewan, South Slave Divisional Education Council,
(2008). 12 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal-themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This book describes a young girl's joy as she learns to play the fiddle - a gift from her Grandpa.

Themes: Family, Music

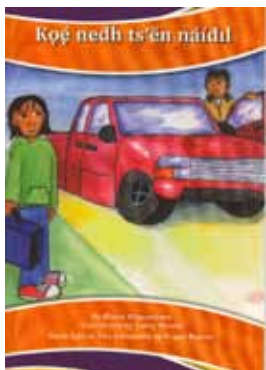

Köę nedhe naidhee ha - The Big Move
Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council,
(2008). 8 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This particular book tells the story of a young girls move to the city with her mother to attend school.

Themes: Family, School, Friends

Dëne Sułın Yatı - Chipewyan

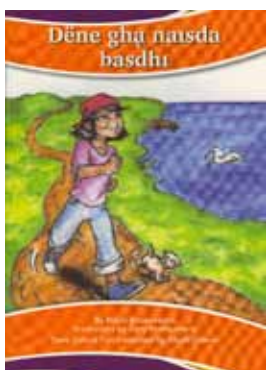

Køę nedh ts'ën náidıl - Trip to the City

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 12 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This particular book tells the story of a family's trip to the city.

Themes: Family

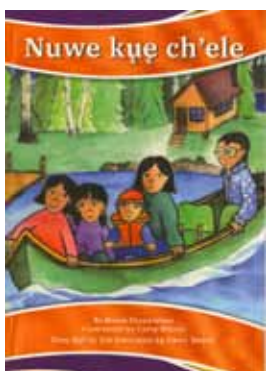

Dëne ghą naisda basdhi - I Like to Visit

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 12 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal-themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This particular book tells of girls joy in visiting her many friends and family members.

Themes: Family, Friends

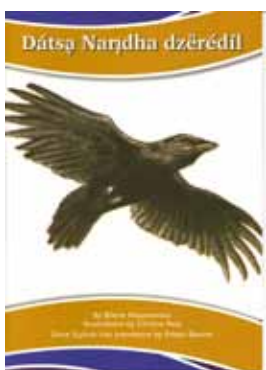

Nuwe kųę ch'ele - Our Cabin

Larrie Hood, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 12 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal-themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This story describes the many activities that a family enjoys at their weekend retreat to a cabin.

Themes: Family, Camping, Transportation

Dátsą Nasıdha Dzëredıl - Ravens Fly High

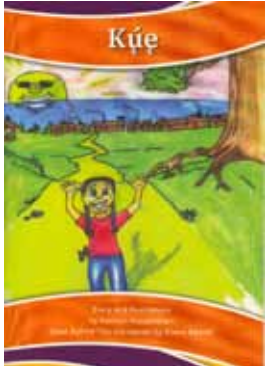

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 8 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This book features ravens and provides the reader with a simple and repetitive text.

Themes: Birds, Numbers

Dëne Sułın Yatı - Chipewyan

Kúę - My Community

Kathryn Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 12 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. The book describes a young girls community and the many people she knows.

Themes: Careers, Family, Friends

L2

Łuk'é nudhere de Hat'és T'úre - Springtime Mud

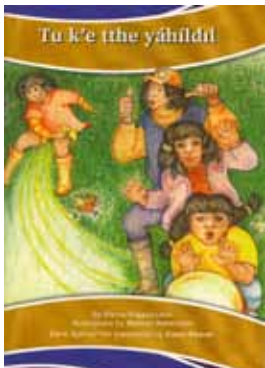

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 8 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal-themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This beginning reader describes a girls adventures in and with springtime mud.

Themes: Seasons

L1

Tu k'e tthe yáħıdıl - Skipping Stones

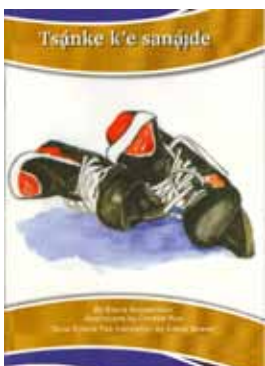

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 8 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal-themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This simple counting story describes the fun of skipping stones

Themes: Family, Numbers, Water and Rivers

L1

Tsánke k'e sanájde - The Skating Rink

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 8 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This simple story with predictable text describes winter fun on a frozen pond.

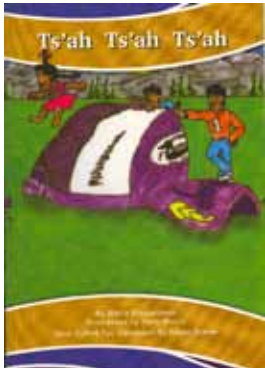

Themes: Seasons, Play

L1

Dëne Sułın Yatı - Chipewyan

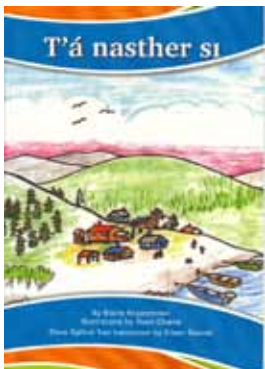

Ts'ah Ts'ah Ts'ah - Hats Hats Hats

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 8 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This simple and repetitive text helps teach colours and days of the week

Themes: Calendar, Colours

T'á naster sı - Where I Live

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 8 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal-themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This book helps teach the words related to the home

Themes: Home

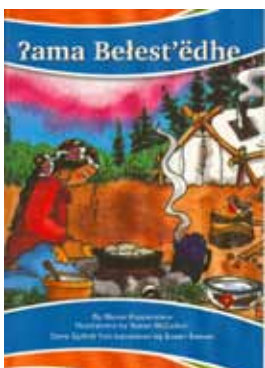

Hesı - I See

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 8 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal-themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. The simple and repetitive text introduces animal words.

Themes: Animals

ʔama Belest'édhe - Mom's Bannock

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 8 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This easy-to-read book about bannock supports the reader with lots of repetition.

Themes: Food and Eating

Dëne Sułın Yatı - Chipewyan

Dıŋ sêlat'ine dedlın ʔat'e - Meet My Family

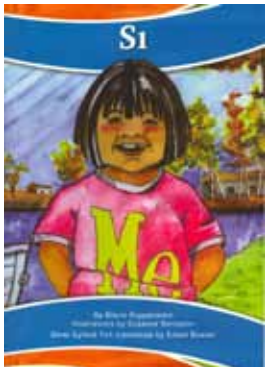

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 8 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This simple story introduces names for family members

Themes: Family

L1

Sı - Me

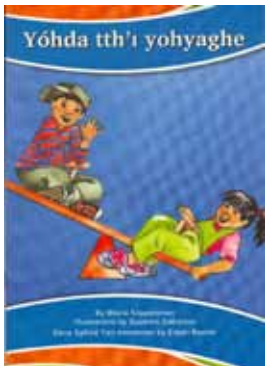

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 8 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal-themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This easy-to-read story introduces simple words for body parts

Themes: Child, Body

L1

Yóhda tth'i yohyaghe - Up and Down

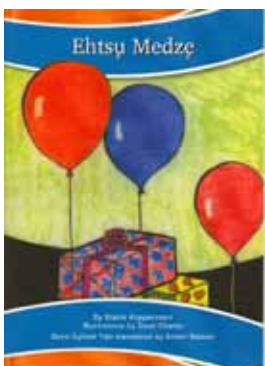

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 8 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal-themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This simple story introduces two words - up and down.

Themes: Play

L1

Ehtsu Medze - Gramma's Birthday

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 8 pages; elementary and high school

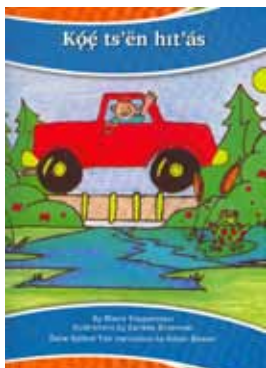

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This easy-to-read story describes some special treats for “Gramma’s birthday”.

Themes: Family, Food, Celebrations

L1

Dëne Sułın Yatı - Chipewyan

Kóé ts'ën hit'ás - The Trip to Town

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 8 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. The book describes the the animals a family sees on their trip to town.

Themes: Animals

L1

Shéthłá yuyaghe dayeę - Down the Hill

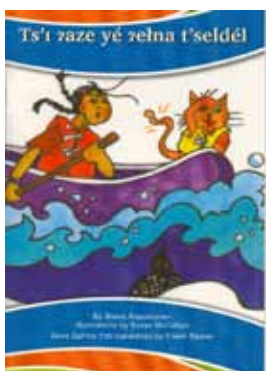

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 8 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal-themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This story with repetitive text helps teach numbers.

Themes: Counting

L1

Ts'ı ɶaze yé ɶelna t'seldél - The Canoe Race

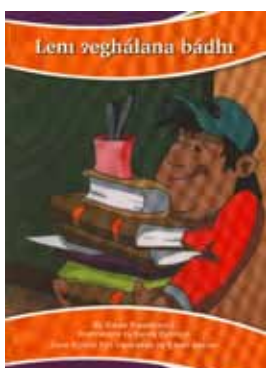

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 8 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal-themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. The simple and repetitive text helps teach colour words

Themes: Colours, Transportation

L1

Lenı ɶeghálana bádhi - Lenny Likes to Help

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 16 pages; elementary and high school

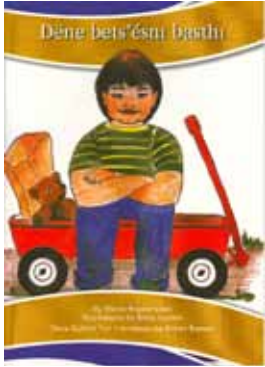

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This story follows the adventures of a young boy as he keeps the traditons by helping others.

Themes: Dene Laws, Family, Friend

L2

Dëne Sułın Yatı - Chipewyan

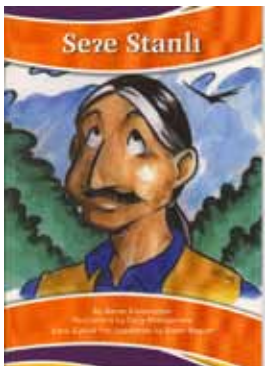

Dëne bets'ésni bastı - I Like to Help

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 8 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This simple story describes the importance of helping others.

Themes: Dene Laws, Family, Careers

Seze Stanlı - Uncle Stanley

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 12 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal-themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This book tells the story of a young boy's favourite and funniest uncle - Uncle Stanley

Themes: Family

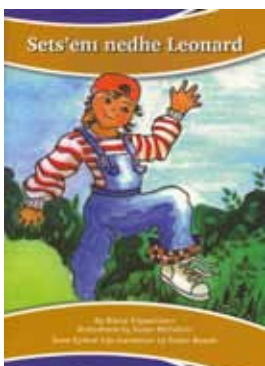

Setsı haselı- My Grandpa Tells Me

David Boulanger, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008) 12 pages; elementary and high school-up

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This story describes the teachings that a elder must pass on to a child.

Themes: Family, Dene Laws, Elders, Grandparents, Spiritual Power

Sets'emı nedhe Leonard - My Best Friend Leonard

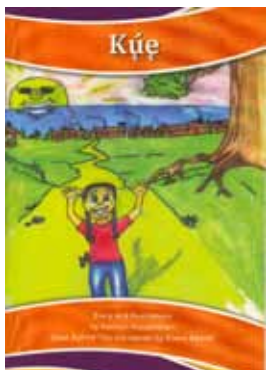

Blaine Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 12 pages; elementary and high school-up

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal-themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. This simple story follows the journey of a young boy on his way to visit his best friend - Leonard.

Themes: Play, Dog, Friends

Dëne Sułın Yatı - Chipewyan

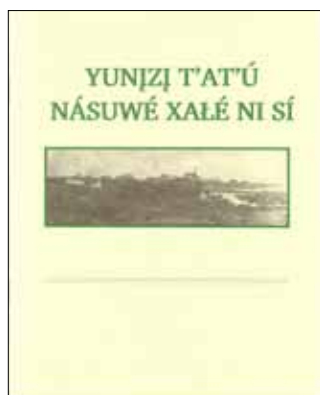

Kúę - My Community

Kathryn Klippenstein, South Slave Divisional Education Council, (2008). 12 pages; elementary and high school

This is a aboriginal language reprint of a book from the Loon Book series. These aboriginal themed books present a glimpse of life in a northern aboriginal community. The book describes a young girls community and the many people she knows.

Themes: Careers, Family, Friends

Yunjzi T'at'ú Násuwé Xalé Nı Sí - The Way We Used To Celebrate

Catherine Boucher and Leandre Beaulieu, Chipewyan Language Group / NWT Literacy Council, (1995). 12 pages; elementary and high school-up

This collection of archive photos serve as the basis for descriptions and stories told by elders describing the life and traditions of the Fort Resolution Dene and Métis.

Themes: Traditions, Elders, Games, Community, Transportation

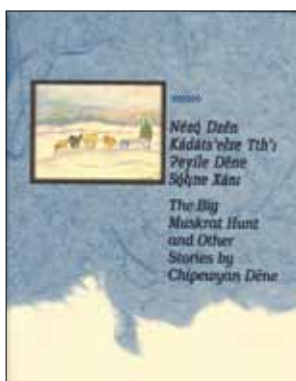

Țeyune Bech'áesjërile Tth'ı Begħathëne Dëne Sôłne Bexanı - I'm Not Sared of Ghosts and other Chipewyan Stories

Angela James, NWT Literacy Council, (1996). 56 pages; high school-up

This book contains a series of stories from Chipewyan storytellers and writers from the South Slave and Yellowknife. The stories describe the life and childhood memories of many Chipewyan elders

Themes: Legends, Living Force, Family, History, Hunting, Trapping, Games, Elders, Traditions

Nézq Dzën Kádáts'ełze Tth'ı Țeyıle Dëne Sôłne Xanı - Th Big Muskrat Hunt and Other Stories by Chipewyan Dëne

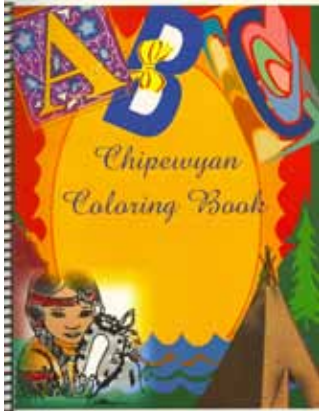

Angela James (ed), Dene Cultural Institute, (1997). 44 pages; high school-up

This book contains a series of stories from Chipewyan storytellers and writers from the South Slave and Yellowknife. The stories describe the life and childhood memories of many Chipewyan elders

Themes: Legends, Animals, Family, History, Hunting, Trapping, Games, Elders, Traditions

Dëne Sųłn Yatı - Chipewyan

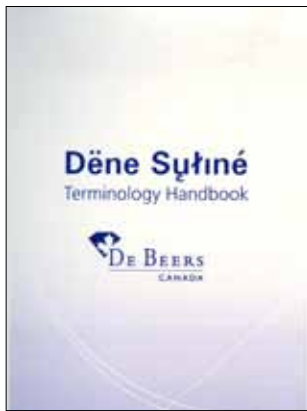

Chipewyan Colouring Book Smith's Landing Benevolent Society, 116 pages; elementary

This colouring book features outlines of animals, people and alphabet character pictures all labelled with the Chipewyan word and ready for colouring.

Themes: Fish, Animals, Landforms, Alphabet

Dëne Sųłné Terminology Book

Elizabeth (Sabet) Biscaye, De Beers, Canada (2007). 40 pages; elementary and high school-up

This terminology reference guide lists 145 English words, the Chipewyan translation and a reverse-English translation for a series of technical terms and concepts on issues related to land-use, mining and animal habitat.

Themes: Animals, Habitat, Mining, Water, Geography and Land Use

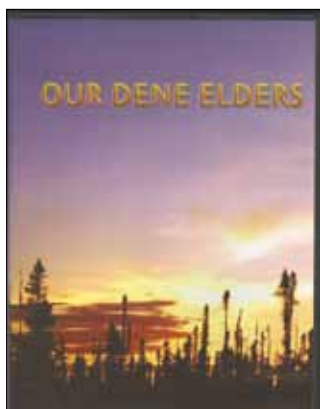

Dëne Hané Nadlé - Inuvialuktun and Dene Stories Reborn V2 NWT Education Culture and Employment (2007). 40 pages; elementary and high school-up

This book is a collection of stories written by a group of writer-teachers while attending a Writers Workshop hosted by ECE. The stories, written entirely in various aboriginal languages, feature the childhood memories of the authors. The book also presents information related to the writing process used in the workshop.

Themes: Family, Elders, Legends, Storytelling

Our Dene Elders - Chipewyan Language -2 Volume DVD set Native Communications Society of the NWT, (2008); all

This set of two DVD's is a compilation of a series of interviews of Chipewyan elders originally aired in a television series "Our Dene Elders". The elders describe life from the past as they share stories, legends and memories all in Dëne Sųłné.

Themes: People, Spirituality, The Land and Sky, Animals

Dëne Sùhn Yatı - Chipewyan

Dëne Yatı ʔerehtł'ís - Chipewyan Prayers & Hymns

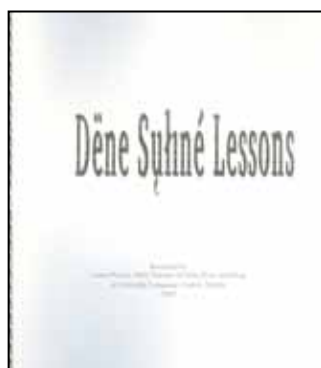

Yellowknives Dene First Nation, (2000). 14 pages; all

This is a collection of prayers and hymns written in both Chipewyan and Tlicho. The book is accompanied by a CD recorded by elders from the Yellowknife Dene First Nations. The prayers and hymns are also written in syllabics.

Themes: Prayers, Spirituality

L3

Dëne Sùhné Lessons

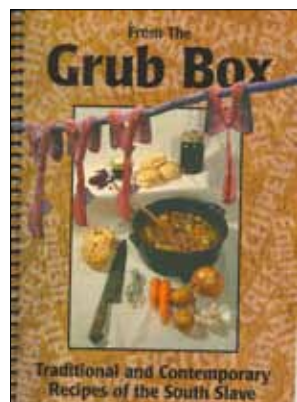

Leona Poitras, Betty Harnum, Mary Rose Sunberg, Goyatikò Language Centre (1995). 22 pages; all

This is a collection of 20 lessons leading the student towards fluency in several conversational phrases. A CD accompanies the lessons.

Themes: Language

L2

From the Grub Box

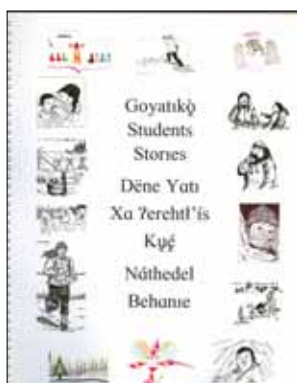

NWT Cree Language Program / Ataitcho Territory Dëne Sùhine Language Program, (2005). ISBN 0-9732163-5-2 208 pages; all

This book is a collection of traditional and contemporary recipes from elders and contributors from the South Slave. The recipes are categorized according to appetizers, soups, salads, main courses and desserts.

Themes: Food

LR

Dëne Yatı Xa ʔerehtł'ís Kùè - Goyatikò Student Stories

Goyatikò Language Centre, (2008). 112 pages; all

This book contains a series of stories from Chipewyan storytellers and writers from the South Slave and Yellowknife involved in a writers workshop at the Goyatikò Language Centre. The stories describe the life and childhood memories of many participants at the workshop.

Themes: Legends, Animals, Family, History, Hunting, Trapping, Games, Elders, Traditions

L1

Dëne Sų́n Yatı - Chipewyan

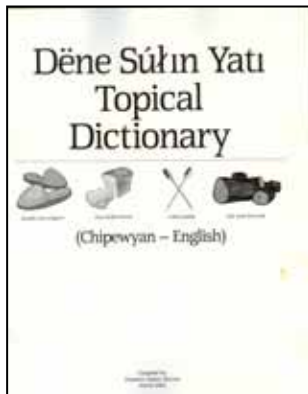

Dëne Sų́nė Seyatıe Yatı (Teachers Manual & student text)
Alex Jaker, Goyatikò Language Centre (2008). 41pages; all

This teachers manual and student text presents a series of lessons and student activities all focused on basic conversation and greetings within a set grammatical structure. The Chipewyan text is written in both Roman Orthography and Syllabics

Themes: Greetings, Language, Family

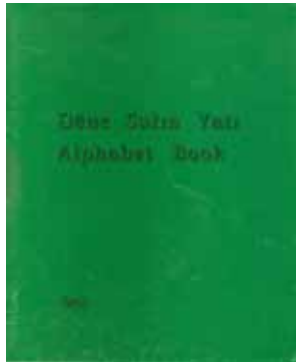

Dëne Sų́n Yatı Topical Dictionary

Elizabeth (Sabet) Biscaye, Akaitcho Territory Government,
(2002). 42 pages; elementary and high school-up

This topical dictionary lists approximately 1200 words written in both Chipewyan and English. The dictionary is organized by topics and includes common words in such topics as food, clothing, numbers, tools, weather, recreation, landforms etc.

Themes: Animals, Geography, Food, Birds, Fish, Clothing, Family

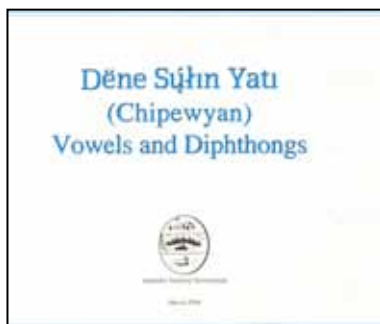

Dëne Sų́n Yatı Alphabet Book

Elizabeth (Sabet) Biscaye, Akaitcho Territory Government,
(2000). 42 pages; elementary and high school-up

This is a picture dictionary organized around the Dëne Sų́n Yatı alphabet. Each page features a group of clipart pictures with common sounds. This book is ideal for young children just learning the language.

Themes: Alphabet

Dëne Sų́n Yatı (Alphabet Chart and Vowels & Diphthongs)
Akaitcho Territory Government, (2004); all

This two poster set features the alphabet and vowel sounds of Dëne Sų́n. Clipart pictures are matched with the letters and their Dëne Sų́n words.

Themes: Alphabet, Language

